About the area,

Old Albufeira

A traditional Portuguese town, full of shops, restaurants and bars. A long stretch of beaches make this an ideal destination for day visits or night time meals. People watching in the main square is a great lunchtime activity.

Albufeira 'The Strip'

'The Strip' It is a north-to-south road just up from Praia da Oura, and it is lined with tourist filled bars and shops. Most have some form of music and live sport, and many shops selling all sorts of things, a lively evening out with, clubs, bars, disco's and restaurants, the strip is a 10 minute taxi ride away, and if you're looking for the nightlife this is a must. Lots of Irish themed bars, Linekers bar seemed to be a very popular choice for the brits.

Vilamoura

At the heart of Vilamoura is the marina which has the capacity to berth over 1,000 vessels. The marina is surrounded by large hotels and luxury holiday homes as well as a large casino and numerous restaurants and vibrant bars. At the far corner of the marina, it is possible to charter boats for big game fishing. There are also facilities for jet skiing and parascending. Close by there are also a number of sports clubs, a shooting range and many night clubs. Tourism in Vilamoura is extensive and well-developed, Vilamoura is a 15-20 minute drive away, around €30.00 in a taxi, well worth a visit during the day or night time, Figo's bar (yes the footballer) has a great vibe and is full of memorabilia from stars that have visited Vilamora...

Golf Information:

Short driving distance to all major golf courses in Vilamoura, 10 minutes to local course,
